

Virginia Public Safety Foundation Privacy Policy

Virginia Public Safety Foundation (VPSF) is grateful for your support of our important programs. We respect your privacy as a donor and community benefactor of our organization.

VPSF maintains record of all contact information you provide to us voluntarily on our website, at our fundraisers and events, or in response to an item mailed to you, as well as any history of contributions you have made to VPSF. The information we keep on file is used only to further communicate with you and, in the case of your giving history, to carefully analyze our successes in managing your contributions.

VPSF does not sell, trade or release your contact information or giving history to other organizations or groups.

At any time you may contact VPSF for more information on the files we maintain pertaining to contacts with you and your giving history.
